

Curriculum Vitae

Employment

---

11.2021 – University of Oxford
present Research Assistant and Master Thesis

Lead several projects researching selective attention deficits in psychopathic individuals. The research focuses on attention deficits of psychopaths and potential downstream consequences for decision-making and behavioural inhibition.

06.2021 – University of Amsterdam
present Research and Teaching Assistant

Several research assistant positions in the Lie – and Habit Lab. Research within the labs focused on lie detection and the long-term formation of habits respectively.

Teaching Assistant

Assisted with grading, teaching, and organisation of the courses Meta-Analysis and Addiction and Compulsive Disorders.

Education & Qualifications

---

10.2020 – University of Amsterdam
present MSc Psychological Research

- Major in Clinical Psychology
- Minor in Methodology and Statistics

01.2020 – University of Leeds
07.2020 Erasmus Semester

- Clinical and Forensic courses
- Brain and Cognition courses
- Socio-developmental courses

09.2017 – Radboud University
07.2020 Bachelor of Science, Psychology

- Brain & Cognition (core domain)
- Development & Health (core domain)
- Research Methods and Projects

08.2014 – Stoney Creek High School (USA)
07.2015 Year Abroad

- Psychology
- College Statistics
- Advanced English

07.2008 – Ursulaschule Osnabrück (Germany)
07.2017 Abitur/A-levels

Placements and Projects

---

11.2019      Lab Visit at the University of Oxford

Outline

Two-week lab visit at the University of Oxford's O.C.E.A.N. lab. Under the supervision of Prof. Elaine Fox, a new paradigm was created to test the Impaired Integration Theory of psychopathy.

Key Components

- Review of existing literature
- Report informing future creation and use of the paradigm
- Design of a new paradigm
- Presentation and critical evaluation

09.2018 – 07.2020      Psychology Honours Programme

Outline

Accessory study programme that is offered to students with exceptional achievement and is focused on psychological research. Excursions, independent research projects, academic writing courses, and individual supervision are part of the curriculum. The programme spans the 2nd and 3rd Bachelor years and concludes with the Honours Thesis.

Key Components

- Research: EEG study on error awareness – supervision: Prof. Dennis Schutter
- Honours Thesis: Computational modelling of socioeconomic decision-making as a function of psychopathic traits and measurements of ECG and EDA – supervision: Prof. Inti Brazil
- Meta-analysis: Socioeconomic decision-making in psychopaths
- Conference visit

01.2018 – 07.2018      Interdisciplinary Honours Programme

Outline

Accessory study programme that is offered to students with exceptional achievement and aims to foster scientific and critical thought beyond that of the own discipline. Leading researchers in their field present findings to small groups of students and foster discussion and exchange across various fields in academia.

Skills

- Teamwork & Feedback
- Critical thinking
- Academic writing

05.2016      Internship at Montessori Schule Osnabrück

Outline

The Montessori Schule Osnabrück is a school for mentally disabled children and is dedicated to mental development and inclusion. In 2016 I was given responsibility for one class and organized activities and excursions with and for the children.

Skills

- Communication
- Responsibility

Awards and Recognition

---

07.2020      Honours Bachelor awarded by the Radboud Honours Academy
07.2019      Honours Interdisciplinary awarded by the Radboud Honours Academy
07.2018      Propedeuse 'Cum Laude' awarded by the Radboud University

Languages

---

German – mother tongue
English – C2
French – B2
Dutch – A2

Amsterdam, January 16th, 2022